SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 5.

From Washington.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5, 1889.

Six republican Senators have visited Mr. Harrison. They are now generally spoken of as the visiting statesmen, but only in ridicule. They know no more about Mr. Harrison's proposed policy, or of the probable composition of his cabinet, now than they did before they went to Indianapolis. Mr. Harrison listened patiently to all they had to say, but it was observed by all of them that what he said was so guarded that so far was it from being indicative, that the words might just as well not have been uttered. One republican Senator, who has not visited Mr. Harrison, wrote him a letter a short time ago, telling him it would profit him no little and save him a great deal of trouble if he would let his own common sense and personal knowledge of men and things determine his actions, rather than the gratuitous and volunteer advice of others, which is almost always biased more or less by self interest, and that that profit would be increased if he would make no promises and talk about public affairs as little as possible. The writer did not expect a response, and was surprised when he got one by return mail, to the effect that his letter was the most agreeable one that had been received by the President-elect for some time, and was so much in accord with his ideas and feelings that the writer might expect to be consulted with on the subject referred to during the next few weeks. Whether Mr. Blaine will go in the Cabinet or not is unknown, but his friends say he will certainly not go to Indianapolis unless he shall receive a more pressing invitation to do so than has as yet been tendered him. They also say that if Mr. Blaine is slighted by not receiving a tender of the State Department, the strongest element of the republican party will allow Mr. Harrison to "gang his ain gut" without any interference on their part, and that his administration will therefore be a failure from the start. They also say that if, as is reported, Mr. Harrison intends to take the mumps to his bosom, and to govern the disposition of the government's patronage according to their notions, he will prove a greater failure than his predecessor. As Senator Stanford is confidently expected that he will have at least influence enough to name one Cabinet minister, and if so, that Mr. Swift, a distinguished lawyer of California, will represent the Pacific slope among the constitutional advisers of the President-elect. Ex-Senator Henderson of Missouri, who voted against the impeachment of President Johnson, and who broke with the Grant gang, is becoming more and more prominent as the possible Southern member of the Cabinet.

The House to-day immediately after the reading of the journal resumed the consideration of the resolution to change the rules so as to facilitate the transaction of business during the remainder of the session, and the opponents, just as soon, resumed their filibustering to defeat it. A call of the House soon became necessary, and the doors were closed and the deputy sergeants at arms sent out for absentees. It now looks as if to-day, as well as yesterday and the day before, would be consumed by this fight.

The Senate to-day took up Mr. Edmunds' resolution warning foreign governments against lending any assistance or taking any part in the completion of the Panama Canal. Its immediate consideration was opposed by Senators Keagan, Call, Voorhees, Gray, Morgan and others. Mr. Call was opposed to the resolution itself, and said the people of this country should be obliged to any foreign government that would complete a work that would benefit them more than anybody else. Some objected to the resolution upon the ground that it would be considered in the light of boomerang the Nicaragua Canal, the bill for which passed the House yesterday.

A Virginia member of Congress told the GAZETTE's correspondent to-day that he and all the people of his State whom he had heard express their views on the subject, agreed with the GAZETTE as to the inadvisability of an extra session of the Virginia legislature.

It is understood that the sale of the Washington Post has been completed, and that the purchaser, Messrs. Hutton and Wilkins, will take charge to-day. Mr. Hutton is an ultra republican, and Mr. Wilkins, a Randall democrat.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.

SENATE.

Mr. Edmunds offered two resolutions (which were agreed to) calling on the President for information as to the Venezuelan awards, and as to what steps, if any, have been taken by the United States government to collect the monthly quotas of the Caracas customs receipts.

Mr. Sherman called up the joint resolution reported by him yesterday from the committee on foreign relations declaring the sense of Congress in relation to the connection of European governments with any inter-oceanic canal and asked that it be passed immediately. A brief but very interesting discussion ensued.

The resolution finally went over till Monday, and the aye bill was taken up at 2 o'clock.

HOUSE.

Mr. Reed, of Maine, then called up the resolution to abolish, for the remainder of the session, the call of States for the introduction of bills on the first and third Mondays of each month.

On ordering the previous question the yeas and nays were ordered.

An adjournment was subsequently suggested by the understanding that the Sergeant at Arms telegraph absent members and request their return.

Riotous Proceedings.

SEATTLE, W. T. Jan. 5.—Trouble which has been brewing in the New Castle mine for some time culminated yesterday in a riot in which one man, Wm. Rastom, was killed. The difficulty first arose over a man named Boyle who went to work on a "breast" and whom the knights of labor claimed had no right to the place. Wednesday morning they refused to go to work in the New Castle mine. The members of the miners' union, however, who greatly outnumbered the knights, continued at work and Thursday night a large force of knights came over from Gilman and McAllister for the purpose of cleaning out the camp. They marched through New Castle, went to the mine and assaulted and terribly beat a number of miners, including Buchanan the out-to-front man, and then returned on the train to New Castle and at the depot attacked J. L. Hughes, president of the union, and Ralph Lowley. Young Llewellyn Jones rushed out from his house with a gun and ran into the crowd. He was knocked down and Rastom tried to shoot him. After he got up some one fired a shot and Rastom was struck in the abdomen. A general fusillade followed, but the crowd scattered and no one was hurt. Rastom was carried to a house near by and expired in 15 minutes. The rioters dispersed immediately after the shooting. Everything is now quiet.

White Caps Fired On.

JEFFERSON, O., Jan. 5.—A few nights ago three or four men visited the homes of J. H. Stone and Clark Silvers, living on G'ade Rin, about five miles from here, and stoned the houses, leaving a White Cap notice. Thursday night they appeared at Silvers' and roused him by throwing stones against his house. Silvers had procured a double barreled shot gun, and had it loaded for them. When they appeared Silvers fired both barrels into the crowd at a short range. The loads took effect on one or more judges. The noise made by the men while fleeing from Silvers' place. Yesterday morning considerable blood was found on the ground and a search is being made for wounded White Caps.

Hanged Five Times and Let Go.

OMAHA, Jan. 5.—A. C. Roberts, of Genoa, recently entered the rooms of two respectable woman and insulted them. He was arrested and locked up. That night masked men took him from the jail, tied a rope around his neck and drew him up five times. Being still alive after the fifth time, he was laid out on the ground with a note pinned to his coat ordering him to leave the country as soon as he regained consciousness. He has not been seen since.

Claims His Wife.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—A man named Charles went to California 18 years ago to seek his fortune. After some time news reached his wife that he was dead. She married again, but her second husband was killed by falling off a bridge and she married a third husband. A short time since her first husband appeared with $33,000 and wished to live with his wife. She, however, declines. The case is now likely to come before the courts.

Railroad Accident.

CARDON, Wyo., Jan. 5.—Eastbound Union Pacific freight train No. 22 crashed into the rear of train No. 2 yesterday at Medicine Bow Creek. The caboose and two box cars were ditched and burned. The wooden bridge, sixty feet long, on which the train had stopped to cool a hot box also burned. A telegrapher who was riding on the caboose was killed, the engineer badly cut about the head, and a brakeman had a leg broken.

MAHONE'S CHANCES.

At the conference of some of the republican anti-Mahone State committee in Petersburg Thursday night, Chairman Houston expressed the opinion that there was not a possible chance of Mahone's getting into the cabinet, and asserted that Mahone will have but little to do with the patronage of the State. "If a Virginian is selected," said the chairman, "for a place in the cabinet I am in favor of Judge R. W. Hughes, of the United States circuit court. The President will, in my opinion, follow the course outlined in his speech to the Birmingham delegation. He will not admit that there is any such thing as a Southern question, but will treat all sections alike."

The conference resolved that instead of sending a delegation to wait upon the President-elect a written statement of the condition of political affairs in Virginia be forwarded him. This statement will be prepared by ex-Governor Cameron. The conference also determined to continue and perfect the organization formed at the Library Hall convention in May last, of which Hon. D. F. Houston is chairman.

It is said that Gen. Mahone is having some kind of an address prepared, but the nature of it is not known. It is also alleged Mahone is having a paper signed by the republican members of the State Legislature indorsing his political course.

To bring himself prominently before the public Mahone has written to well known ex-Confederate officers and soldiers all over the country asking them to be present in Washington on March 4 and take part in the inaugural ceremonies. It is asserted that Mahone has already received replies from many of these old ex-confederates declining to comply with his suggestions. Some of these responses are quite tart.

COMMUNICATED.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.—The result of the election by the City School Board for teachers for our public schools demonstrates clearly the fact that some of the members of the board do not consider the qualification or merit of candidates for such an important position. One of the young ladies who had taken a course at the State Normal School and passed successful examinations and received a second class certificate (while the other two ladies who were elected received only third class certificates) naturally feels that injustice has been done her.

A CITIZEN.

"Adam the goodliest man of men since born," still could not be called exactly enviable, for when he tilted the ground in the dewy twilight and caught a sharp touch of rheumatism, he had no Salvation Oil for his cure, and no twenty five cents to try it.

AWFUL DEATH IN A WILD BEAST CAGE.

The shocking death of a female tamer of wild beasts is reported from Hohenheim, in Bavaria. She was a girl 26 years old, named Bertha Baumgartner. During a public performance in a strolling menagerie she suffered an empty cage, and the door of an adjoining cage was then opened to let a lion and a Bengal tiger enter. The lion walked in quietly, but the tiger, a ferocious beast which had three times wound up its keepers, crouched in the doorway and showed temper. The girl lost her nerve, cried for help, and slipped. As she did so the tiger made a spring, hit her on the shoulder, then in the throat, and literally rent her to pieces and tossed her body about. Half the audience ran to the doors in horror, while the attendants tried to beat off the tiger by poking hot irons into the cage. But the girl was dead long before the animal was driven away. The lion seems to have been as much frightened as the human spectators, for he took no part in the carnage. The proprietor of the show has since admitted that this same tiger had already killed two people.
